Goods (In case rejects are more than 5% estimated percentage with justification may be given NA

(Qty.(Raw Material=Tonnes)	Value (Rs. Lacs)

Justification for the wastage:

The manufacturing process involves multiple stages starting from material preparation up to bonding of components. During the course of these activities certain stages generate process wastage

- 1. Material Preparation: Glass cutting as per mold profile results in off-cuts and unused proportions of raw glass
- 2. Infusion: During the infusion resin and hardener setting, wastage occurs in the form of machine flush and residual material in drums.
- 3. Debagging: Removal of processed materials after curing results in disposal of consumables such as vacuum foil, infusion setup material and other non-reusable items.
- 4. Bonding: The application of paste for shell bonding leads to minor wastage through squeeze-out during joining.

Overall, these changes cumulatively account for approximately 20% wastage of material. This wastage primarily arises due to process related consumables, unavoidable cut offs and residual material loss during the above activities while some of these losses are unavoidable to the manufacturing process.

4	Remarks	M/s. SE Forge Limited, a unit in M/s. ASPEN Park Infra Coimbatore Private Limited SEZ, has proposed to establish a Ground-Mounted Solar PV Plant with an approximate capacity of 2.0 MWp (DC) / 1.750 MWp (AC). The unit has requested exemption from IGST for the proposed project. The proposal is placed before the Unit Approval Committee (UAC) for consideration in accordance with the guidelines issued under O.M. No. K-43014(16)/8/2020-SEZ dated 07.06.2021 and 07.03.2024. The Office Memorandum No. K-43014(16)/8/2020-SEZ dated 07.06.2021 indicated that a unit may establish a non-conventional power plant on its premises solely for captive consumption, provided that no tax or duty benefits outlined in Section 26 of the SEZ Act 2005 are claimed. However, the recent Office Memorandum dated 07.03.2024, under the same reference number, introduces a partial modification. It states that duty benefits under Section 26 of the SEZ Act, 2005 are now permitted for units installing and maintaining renewable energy equipment exclusively for their own captive consumption, with the stipulation that the generated power must not be transmitted to the Domestic Tariff Area (DTA).
